100 Questions and answers on the healthy effect of Natural Zeolite

MineralMedix

ZEOLITE / CLINOPTILOLITE

is a natural clay-like compound, aluminum-silicon/oxygen/alkali chemical structure with a stable size of pores (0.2—2nm). It is alkaline and negatively charged by nature. Zeolite is a specific mineral entero-sorbent which can attract positively charged toxins and hold and excrete them. Clinoptilolite has the ability to provide beneficial positively charged cations (Ca, Mg, Ph, Na, K and more) by the Ionic exchange. Zeolite is safe for long-term use, as it does not disrupt mineral homeostasis in human, while removing heavy metals and toxins.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

Dr. Karl Hetch (Medical Doctor, Scientist, University Professor, lives in Germany).

He is a big believer in Zeolite. He has used Zeolite in his practice and for his personal needs for more than 25 years. His article – "A brief comment on the effect of natural clinoptilolite zeolite in the human body" – mechanist of Action of Zeolite we use at the presentation.

His book "Answers to 100 questions of the healthy effect of natural Zeolite" was used as a base for this presentation.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

How should natural zeolite be taken?

The ideal way to take zeolite is in a glass of pure warm water. Bring a small amount of the liquid suspension (25ml) into your mouth, hold it for some time, swallow it, and then finish the rest of it.

Can natural zeolite be drunk with fruit juice?

Please, do not do that. Different fruit acids and enzymes, especially those of citrus fruits, can influence the effect of the natural zeolite.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

Can natural zeolite be taken with tea or coffee?

Natural zeolite can be drunk with green and herbal teas but not with black tea, fruit tea, or coffee.

Can natural zeolite also be taken with other natural substances?

There is evidence for a combination of effects of natural zeolite and natural substances in case of: betanin (beetroot); spirulina alga; lycopine; bentonite; chlorella alga; Mg compounds.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

Can zeolite also be taken with medical drugs?

It's better to take 2 hours a part of medical drugs.

Is natural zeolite able to trigger allergies?

No, according to the current state of the art and experience, it does not trigger allergies. There are some studies show that zeolite can absorb histamine.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

How long can natural zeolite be taken?

As per Dr.Karl Hetch, it is recommended to take natural zeolite every day for 4 weeks, with 1 week off. It can be taken for a long time. Dr.Hetch has been taking Zeolite for more than 25 years. According to human clinical studies, people were taking Zeolite for 2 or 4 years, and the condition of osteoporosis improved, but no side effects were noticed.

Can Zeolite be taken with alcohol?

No, the natural zeolite can bind alcohol in the body via ion exchange and adsorption.

PRACTICAL TIPS ON USING ZEOLITE

Can particles of zeolite get into the cells?

No. The tiny grains of natural zeolite are not going into the blood.

10

Dr. Karl Hecht explains the Alumina-Silicate function

In his book "Answers to 100 questions on the heathy effect of natural zeolite" he wrote, "As far as I know, the only non-toxic aluminum is the aluminum silicate. This includes natural zeolite-clinoptilolite. Two scientific statements of the EFSA from the year 2013 confirm the safety of natural zeolite-clinoptilolite (Eig568, previously known as E568). Natural Zeolite was classified according to its definition by the Regulation of the European Commission (2004) and the implementation of a new EU regulation (2013) as completely harmless with regard to the health of animals and humans."

11

Are Silicates in Zeolite can cause issues?

Silicates (SiO2, silicic acid, clinoptilolite-zeolite) can serve as donator of the essential trace element silicon in a regulative way and compensate for the age-relating loss of the endogenous silicon.

Why are competitive athletes satisfied with the intake of natural zeolite?

It has been proved scientifically that competitions and excessive training in case of competitive athletes lead to overproduction of free radicals and lactic acid(oxidative stress). Natural zeolite can reduce the formation of free radicals and lactic acid and thus accelerate the regeneration process.

Natural zeolite can meet the mineral needs of athletes. The Australian record champion SK Rapid Wien has applied zeolite very successfully since 2013 after a long test phase in the medical department.

Zeolite and nuclear reactor disaster (Chernobyl, Fukushima)

500,000 tons of zeolite were applied in Chornobyl, a vast amount of zeolite was applied to the Fukushima reactor, and bags with zeolite were addressed to the ocean water. Zeolite powder was added to the animal feed and human food (bread, etc).

Consequently, the concentration of radionuclides in the meat fell by 50—70% and milk by 80—85%. Zeolite in food for humans reinforced the removal of Cesium 137 from the human body.

IS NATURAL ZEOLITE A UNIVERSAL REMEDY?

There is no such thing as a universal remedy.

Natural Zeolite can have different effects on our bodies. For this reason, it is important to consider the individual needs of every human. As a result, it is possible that natural zeolite works better for one person than another. Individual protocol, sufficient water intake, and physical exercises can improve the effect of zeolite.
